Aims & Scope

Current Pharmacogenomics and Personalized Medicine (CPPM) is a transdisciplinary peer-reviewed biomedical journal that reports new findings and cutting-edge concepts in both pharmacogenomics and personalized medicine under a single cover. CPPM is an accelerator for global personalized medicine and pharmacogenomics. Importantly, the journal provides a multi-disciplinary integrated platform from cell to society to address diagnostics and responsible pharmacogenomics applications in developing countries.

Thousands of citations of journal articles have been indexed and abstracted in major global indexing and abstracting services. The journal is abstracted in BIOSIS Previews, BIOSIS Reviews Reports and Meetings, Scopus, Embase and more...
